ANNUAL MEETING SET FOR NOV. 18

New Directors of The Rush County Chapter of the Red Cross Will Be Elected

IN MIDST OF THE ROLL CALL

Canvass Which Will Open On Thursday

The annual meeting of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross will be held in the court house assembly room Thursday afternoon, November 18, at two-thirty o'clock. Coming as it does in the very midst of the Red Cross Roll Call, it is expected that unusual interest will be taken in the meeting. The fourth annual Roll call opens next Thursday, Armistice Day, and will continue until November 25 Thanksgiving Day.

The annual session is for the purpose of electing directors to succeed those whose terms expire and to hear the reports of the officers. The new board of directors in turn selects the officers and the new president appoints the executive committee. There are twelve directors! on the board, one for each auxiliary in the county.

The date for the annual meeting was October 27, but on account of it being the very heighth of the political campaign, the officers of the county chapter felt that it would be useless to try to arouse any interest in the Red Cross and postponed the session until November advertisements.

All members of the Rush county chapter are invited to attend the meeting. All other persons who are interested are also urged to be present as there is nothing to prevent anyone from attending.

Interest is being aroused in the forthcoming Roll Call, according to reports being received at Roll Call headquarters in the recorder's office in the court house, where Miss Nora Seeth is in charge. Miss Sleeth, together with Miss Anna Bohannon and Mrs. Marian Jones, secretary of the county chapter, are in charge of the campaign.

The county chapter has been endeavoring to get a county Red Cross nurse, but has so far been unsuccessful, on account of the great demand for Red Cross nurses. They are very scarce because of the high standards which are maintained by the Red Cross.

Some persons may be inclined to believe that the Red Cross should not be supported because it has accomplished nothing locally. but in answer to this the Red Cross officials point out that in time a Red Cross nurse will be obtained and something tangible in health work will result. Furthermore, they call attention to the fact that the Red Cross is organized and prepared for any local emergency such as an epidemic or flood or some other disaster, and that the Red Cross as a whole stands ready to answer the call of any community for help. For this reason, it is urged, the Red Cross should be supported even though it is not vital to the needs of the community, because it is a national organization which may be depended upon to act quickly in cases of emergency.

OGDEN TRIAL WEDNESDAY M. J. Ogden will go on trial in the norning at nine o'clock in Squire Stech's court on the charge of assault and battery on Mrs. James Hobbs. It will be recalled that Mr. Odgen was arrested recently on two charges, one for assault and battery and the other for trespass. The prosecuting witnesses in each case are Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs who were tenants in the Ogden property in East Eighth street that was damaged by fire recently.

LOWER HOUSE SEAT

Reapportionment of Legislative Representation Likely to Affect Rush County

COMES UP IN JANUARY

Number of Male Voters Fails to Gain Proportionately With Remainder of State

There is a bare possibility that Rush county will lose its seat in the lower house of the Indiana legislature under the reapportionment which will take place at the regular session of the general assembly in Indiana. This is due to the fact that the number of male voters has increased in the state since the last apportionment six years ago.

Rush county will probably continue to hold its place in a joint senatorial district with two other counties, even though the number of male voters has not increased here in proportion to the increase in the state since the change in legislative districts in 1915.

Rush county's male voters, according to the 1919 enumeration, terstate transportation amount to one-third of the required number for a seat in the senate. which indicates that Rush county will probably remain in the joint senatorial district with Decatur and Hancock counties. Decatur's senatorial factor is .34, Hancock's .344 and Rush county's is .332.

Under the provisions of the state constitution, the 100 members of the house and the fifty members of the senate are distributed among the counties every six years on the basis of the number of male voters. A constitutional amendment will be introduced including women voters in the enumeration. The apportionment made at this session of the legislature will be on the basis of an enumeration of voter made in 1919.

Figures showing the fractional number of representatives and senators each county will be entitled to under the new distribution have been prepared by Charles Kettleborough, director of the legislative reference bureau, for use in the state auditor's office. The loss of representation in the general assembly is regarded as a severe blow to "home pride" and efforts will be made by the backward counties shift the losses to other districts of the state, it is believed. Special committees on the apportiontment will handle the question for both branches of the legislature.

The new figures as a whole indicate that present representation will of the counties of the state. Whether the decision of the supreme court Monday allowing the removal from storage of liquor lawfully acquired before the eighteenth amendment became effective, will increase the opportunity for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor was a question which was agitating many local people opposed to the liquor traffic in any form.

It was pointed out by many that the decision opens new avenues for violating the law and that it will release from storage large stocks of liquor which may be acquired by persons in the "bootlegging"

In connection with the transport ation of liquors, officials said it would be difficult if not impossible for them to determine the legality of purchases, and whether the stored stocks had been obtained prior to the effective date of the Volstead act. This was expected to result in more stringent regulations with respect to withdrawals of beverages from bonded warehouses, but the same regulations can not be made to apply to ordinary storage warehouses. Stored stocks, therefore, again are without the law to a great degree, officials said, adding that they anticipated its speedy removal from such storage.

Ethel Clayton appears in the novel role of an Apache dancer in her Paramount picture, "A City Spar" row", which will be shown at the Princess Theatre for the last time today. This marks a distinct deparbeen appearing recently in stories of married life, notably, "The Thirteenth Commandment" and "Young Mrs. Winthrop".

Although Miss Clayton is unmarried in this pitcure, the theme of marriage plays a vital part in the production. During one of her dances, Mill West (Ethel Clayton) injures herself and is sent to the hospital. She recovers and is able to resume dancing, but the physician tells her she will never become a mother. To Milly, that is a matter of complete indifference.

Later she comes to love David Muir (Clyde Fillmore), whose fondness for children brings her to a full realization of what may be a domestic tragedy. She accepts Muir when he proposes, but sends him a note later to the effect that she is more interested in her career than in him. Muir demands an explanation, and she reveals the truth. He assures her that he wants her for herself alone, and all ends happily. Sam Wood's direction is at its

The September section of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Main Street Christian church will meet at the home of Mrs. S. G. Rucker, 310 West Ninth street, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. All members of this section are urged to be present.

The Officers and teachers of the St. Paul's Methodist Sunday school will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Prof. J. H. Scholl in North Jackson street. The main address of the evening will be given by Miss Lois Fritter on "The Graded Sunday School in Principle and Practice". A large attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harmon delightfully entertained with a prettily appointed dinner party Sunday at their home in North Morgan street. A large bouquet of chrysanthemums centered, the table and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Frank George and family, Mrs. Lavina George of Rushville and Mr. and Mrs. John Neukum of Mays.

Thirty-four Pythian Sisters, in cluding the officers and degree team of the local lodge, conferred the work for the initiation of thirteen candidates for the Connersville Pythian Sisters last evening. Following the work a bountiful three course banquet was served, the Connersville Sisters being the hostesses. The banquet table looked lovely with French baskets of roses and individual candles. Flags were also used effectively in the decorations of the banquet room.

A.J. ROLL INAUGURATED JAPANESE TREATY PLANNED WATHOOPING COUGH LORD MAYOR OF LONDON WILL Help Solve The California Im-

Picturesque "Lord Mayor's Show" Attracted The Usual Masses of Sightseers

EXPENSIVE CIVIC PAGEANT

London, Nov. 9-With centuries old civic pomp and pageantry Alderman James Roll was today inaugurated Lord Mayor of London for the ensuing year. The picturesque "Lord Mayor's Show"---a two mile procession which annually dislocates traffic in the heart of the most congested districts of the City of London-attracted the usual masses of sightseers, although it is the customary thing for Londoners to shrug their shoulders and profess to regard it as a tiresome anachronism, "not worth going to see, my boy". However no Lord Mayor has yet been bold enough to cut out this expsensive pageant, and it is certain that all true Cockneys would protest loudly if the ancient ritual was dropped. .

Lord Mayor Roll is an insurance company magnate, having been managing director of the Pearl Insurance Company, with which concern he was connected for fifty years. The son of a Norfolk farmer, he came to London as a boy of fourteen, and-as he puts it himself-"By hard work and a little luck" he worked himself up from the humblest position. He is a typical Englishman of the Dickensian style, rather like the late King Edward in manners and appearance. He is passionately fond of horses and coaching, and despite his 72 years is still a famous whip.

The office of Lord Mayor is no sinceure. Nor is it a profitable one, for although there is a salary of ten thousand pounds for the year, the occupant of the Mansion House generally has to spend four or five times that amount as official "Host" for the City of London.

Increased Efficiency Imperative

R. H. H. HILL, Chemical Engineer of the Bureau of Mines, in discussing the fu-ture of gasoline, says: "It is up to the refiners to extract more of petroleum's useful factors from the crude."

This he says can be effected through efficient management and by improved methods of cracking and blending.

Mr. Hill thus expresses the opinion which has a dominated the policy of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for many years and has enabled this Company to raise its efficiency peak year

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a leader in developing processes to increase the yield of gasoline from crude oil.

The best known and most successful of its improvements is the Burton process, originated in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Speaking of the Burton Process, Mr. Hill says that

"since it was first installed on a commercial scale it has produced approximately 40 million barrels of gasoline from heavy distillates, and has thus saved approximately 150 million barrels of crude that would have been necessary to produce an equivalent amount of gasoline."

This vast saving has been accomplished without sacrificing

Red Crown, the motor gasoline, made and sold by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), is acknowledged by petroleum chemists and other authorities to be the standard fuel for motor cars. It more than meets Government specifications, which require an initial of not more than 140 degrees F; 20 percent off at 221 degrees; 50 percent off at 284 degrees; 90 percent off at 374 degrees; and a dry point (complete vaporization) at not more than 437 degrees F.

During the semi-annual test conducted in July 1920, the average for Red Crown Gasoline showed an initial of 102 degrees F; 20 percent off at 210; 50 percent off at 281; 90 percent off at 387, and a dry point of 427 degrees F.

This shows an initial 38 degrees better than Government specifications, which means easy starting; 20 percent off at 11 degrees better than Government specifications; 50 percent off at 3 degrees better than Government specifications; and 90 per cent off 13 degrees higher than Government specifications, which is more than made up by the 10 degrees difference in dry point.

This proves that, notwithstanding the greatly increased quantity of gasoline which this Company is able to take from the crude, it has in no way sacrificed quality, and is another indication that the large scale operations of this Company have worked to the distinct advantage of every

DELIVERS PAPERS

Pittsburg Press Institutes Airplane Delivery to Altoona, Pa.

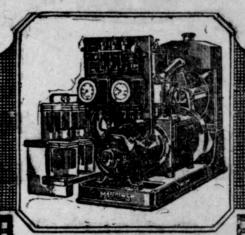

(By United Press) Altoona, Pa., Nov. 9.—The Pittsburgh Press recently introduced a method of delivering newspapers, new to the eastern section of the United States, when it instituted an airplane delivery between Pittsburgh and this city. The success of this first venture has led the Press to consider adopting this mode of transportation to several other towns where it has a large number of subscribers.

The actual flying time for the initial trip was one hour and 14 minutes. The fastest mail train takes two hours and 55 minutes to come here from Pittsburgh.

The large difference in time was in part due to the rail distance of nearly 120 miles being shortened by the machine soaring in a straight line over the Allegheny mountains, while the railroad is forced to circle the steep grades.

CONTENTS NOT PUBLIC YET

Washington, Nov. 9-President Wilson is preparing his final mesrage to congress. The message is to be delivered at the final session of Congress December 6.

Wilson has been at work on his final message for some time and is understood to have discussed various parts of his speech with members of his cabinet, but he has not confided in them the exact contents of his message.

The president has not told anyone whether he will mention the treaty or the league covenant in the message. It is understood that he is devoting most of it to domestic matters and will contain in the message provisions for tax revision, legislation to reduce the cost of living and a number of other legislative matters. He devoted most of Monday to the preparation of the message. The president makes notes with his pencil, then later dictates it to his personal stenographer. There is no likelihood of the president delivering his speech in person. It is expected that it will be read in the senate and house by reading clerks on Tuesday December 7.

ANNUAL MEETING SET FOR NOV. 18

New Directors of The Rush County Chapter of the Red Cross Will Be Elected

IN MIDST OF THE ROLL CALL

Interest is Being Aroused in Annual Canvass Which Will Open On Thursday

The annual meeting of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross will be held in the court house assembly room Thursday afternoon, November 18, at two-thirty o'clock.

Coming as it does in the very midst of the Red Cross Roll Call, it is expected that unusual interest will be taken in the meeting. The fourth annual Roll call opens next Thursday, Armistice Day, and will continue until November 25 Thanksgiving Day.

The annual session is for the purpose of electing directors to succeed those whose terms expire and to hear the reports of the officers. The new board of directors in turn selects the officers and the new president appoints the executive committee. There are twelve directors on the board, one for each auxiliary in the county.

The date for the annual meeting was October 27, but on account of it being the very heighth of the political campaign, the officers of the county chapter felt that it would be useless to try to arouse any interest in the Red Cross and postponed the session until November

All members of the Rush county chapter are invited to attend 'the meeting. All other persons who are interested are also urged to be present as there is nothing to prevent anyone from attending.

Interest is being aroused in the forthcoming Roll Call, according to reports being received at Roll Call headquarters in the recorder's office in the court house, where Miss Nora Seeth is in charge. Miss Sleeth, together with Miss Anna Bohannon and Mrs. Marian Jones, secretary of the county chapter, are in charge of the campaign.

The county chapter has been endeavoring to get a county Red Cross nurse, but has so far been unsuccessful, on account of the FATHER LYONS WILL great demand for Red Cross nurses. They are very scarce because of the high standards which are mained by the Red Cross.

Some persons may be inclined to believe that the Red Cross should not be supported because it has accomplished nothing locally. but in answer to this the Red Cross officials point out that in time a Red Cross nurse will be obtained and | HAD AUDIENCE WITH THE POPE something tangible in health work will result. Furthermore, they call attention to the fact that the Red Cross is organized and prepared for any local emergency such as an epidemic or flood or some other disaster, and that the Red Cross as a whole stands ready to answer the call of any community for help. For this reason, it is urged, the Red Cross should be supported even though it is not vital to the needs of the community, because it is a nadepended upon to act quickly in eases of emergency.

PREPARING TO INSTAI NEW TRAFFIC POSTS

City Officials Have Plans and Specifications-Posts Will be Stationary

ALSO TO BE WELL LIGHTED

Plans and specifications for the installation of our permanent, electrically lighted traffic posts were filed with Mayor A. B. Irvin today by A. T. Mahin, superintendent of the city water, light and power plant, and work will be started at once towards installing them.

The city council recently entered into an agreement with a firm which will put up four traffic posts without any cost to the city with the exception of providing the current for the lights. The concern is given the privilege of covering the posts with advertisements.

The posts will sit on a square base not to exceed 42 inches square, which will be fastened securely to the street. The posts will be hollow iron and will rest on the manholes at the street intersections. There will be a door in the posts which will give access to the manholes. Lights will be installed at the base of the posts and at the top so that there will be no further trouble with motorists running into them at night.

The posts will be located at Main and First, Second and Perkins, Second and Main and Second and Morgan. Two more may be installed later at First and Morgan and Third and Main.

COUNTY MAY LOSE | ACT MAY CAUSE LOWER HOUSE SEAT

Reapportionment of Legislative Representation Likely to Affect Rush County

COMES UP IN JANUARY

Number of Male Voters Fails to Gain Proportionately With Remainder: of State

There is a bare possibility that Rush county will lose its seat in the lower house of the Indiana legislaunder the reapportionment which will take place at the regular session of the general assembly in Indiana. This is due to the fact that the number of male voters has increased in the state since the last apportionment six years ago.

Rush county will probably continue to hold its place in a joint senatorial district with two other coun ties, even though the number of male voters has not increased here in proportion to the increase in the state since the change in legislative districts in 1915.

At the apportionment six years ago, one representative was given for each 7,926 male voters and senator for each 15,852 male voters The new apportionment will be based on 8.907 male voters for representatives and 16,194 male voters for senators.

This county has only .633 percent of the required number of voters to be entitled to one seat in the house and there is a remote chancethat the county may be put with another county to form a legislative. district for the election of one legis-

Rush county's male voters, according to the 1919 enumeration, amount to one-third of the required number for a seat in the senate. which indicates that Rush county will probably remain in the joint senatorial district with Decatur and Hancock counties. Decatur's senatorial factor is .34. Hancock's is .344 and Rush county's is .332.

Under the provisions of the state constitution, the 100 members of the house and the fifty members of the senate are distributed among the counties every six years on the basis of the number of male voters. A constitutional amendment will be introduced including women voters in the enumeration. The apportionment made at this session of the legislature will be on the basis of an enimeration of voter made in 1919.

Figures showing the fractional number of representatives and senators each county will be entitled to under the new distribution have been prepared by Charles Kettleborough, ARMISTICE DAY IS director of the legislative reference bureau, for use in the state auditor's office. Counties having less The Rev. M. W. Lyons, formerly than the required number of voters an Irvington Catholic church, will tation for fractional numbers of

The loss of representation in the general assembly is regarded a_S a severe blow to home pride" and efforts will be made by the backward counties to shift the losses to other districts of the state, it is believed. Special committees on the apportiontment will handle the question for both

The new figures as a whole indicate that present representation will be maintained by a large majority forty-five senatorial districts; fortythree districts elect one senator each; Lake county elects two, and Marion county five, making fifty in all. The state was divided into seventy-six representative districts; sixty-six districts elect one representative; Allen county elects three; Delaware, two; Elkhart, two; Grant, two; Lake, four; Madison, two; Marion, ten; St. Joseph, three;

Decision of Supreme Court Granting Removal of Liquor May Have Bad Influence

Language of Court May be Interpreted to Mean Different Things-. - Case_s Are Cited

Whether the decision of the su preme court Monday allowing the removal from storage of liquor National league. lawfully acquired before the eighteenth amendment became effective will increase the opportunity for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor was a question which was agitating many local people opposed to the liquor traffic in any form.

It was pointed out by many that the decision opens new avenues for violating the law and that it will release from storage large stocks of liquor which may be acquired by persons in the "bootlegging" business.

One effect of the decision foreseen was the danger of increased opportunity for fraudamong persons seeking means of violating the law. Without the check on transportation provided by the permit system, officials indicated that they expected greater difficulty in controlling unlawful sales.

A conclusion has not been reached as to whether the court's interpretation opens the way for unrestricted transportation in interstate commerce. The transfer can be made within a state apparently was specific, but the language of the court when analyzed may yet show, officials thought, means whereby interstate transportation can be stopped. In the particular case involved it was pointed out the owner's legal residence and the place of storage were within the same state and, in fact, in the same city.

In connection with the transportation of liquors, officials said i would be difficult if not impossible for them to determine the legality of purchases, and whether the stored stocks had been obtained prior to the effective date of the Volstead act. This was expected to result in more stringent regulations with respect to withdrawals of beverages from bonded warehouses, but the same regulations can not be COLD WAVE DUE TO made to apply to ordinary storage warehouses. Stored stocks, therefore, again are without the law to a great degree, officials said, adding that they anticipated its speedy removal from such storage.

MORNING FISHING SPENDS

President-Elect to Motor to Golf Course This Afternoon-Train Jumps Track

(By United Press)

Point Isabel, Texas, Nov. 9.-Throwing aside the restraint of public life, President-elect Harding today donned a soft shirt, and baggy trousers and went out on a fishing trip in Bay Tarpon. One of the senator's chief ambitions is to catch one of the monstrous fish this bay, is noted.

Harding put on a broad hayseed hat at 6:30 this morning and got into his boat and rowed out near the old light house. Much commotion was caused around the hotel as the president hustled out, when Ed McClain and Harry Daugherty, Harding' political advisers, scramb" led for the limited supply of water

This afternoon Harding was to motor to Brownsville to the country club to play golf.

The presidential party is handicapped because of an accident which occurred on their way to track with all the baggage abroad.

Senator Harding recalls seeing a cable from Elihu Root urging that the league covenant be modified in vations, saying that to drop the league would be chaos and loss of the result of the war.

Harding did not comment on any point of the Root-message only indicating that Root would be one of the politicians to be called to Marion, Ohio, for a conference during the winter.

Last Showing, "A. City Sparrow"

Ethel Clayton appears in the novel role of an Apache dancer in her Paramount picture, "A City Spar row", which will be shown at the Princess Theatre for the last time today. This marks a distinct departure for Miss Clayton, who has been appearing recently in stories of married life, notably, "The Thirteenth Commandment" and "Young Mrs. Winthrop".

Although Miss Clayton is unmarried in this pitcure, the theme of production. During one of her danciures herself and is sent to hospital. She recovers and is able to resume dancing, but the physician tells her she will never become a mother. To Milly, that is a matter of complete indifference.

Later she comes to love David Mair (Clyde Fillmore), whose fondness for children brings her to a full realization of what may be a domestic tragedy. She accepts Muir when he proposes, but sends him a note later to the effect that she is more interested in her career than in him. Muir demands an explanation, and she reveals the truth. He assures her that he wants her for herself alone, and all ends happily. Sam Wood's direction is at its hest in this story by Kate Jordan. Clara G. Kennedy did the scenario. If in all the world there is an organization amore entitled to be regarded as doing good universally and doing nothing cise at any time or any place, I do not know what it may be

It would be peculiarly a misfortune, if the Red Cross, with its magnificent organization and splendid purpose of useful achievement should lose any measure of its efficiency because the special interest and enthusiasm of wartime has ceased. When the rapidity and accuracy of your work depends upon the condition of your eyes, you should not let a foolish prejudice against wearing glasses stand in the way of a successful career.

From its very nature, your work taxes the eyes severely, unless they are in the best possible condition.

If your eyes are not defective they can do an enormous amount of work without injury, but a slight eye strain may injure your eyes permanently.

If you have symptoms of eyestrain call and let us examine your eyes at once. Delay only makes bad matters worse.

This Is the Day of the "Sheddy" in Many Stores

In order to offer seemingly low prices on goods, many stores are accepting and offering for sale merchandise that has the appearance of merit, but which upon use and examination proves most inferior.

We have had opportunity after opportunity to buy this sort of goods, but have stuck to our steadfast policy of never sac rificing quality to make a low price. Therefore, our clerks never have to apologize for anything they sell you. Every dollar's worth of goods in this store is of reliable quality.

Think it over-comparewe frankly claim that by shopping here you will receive the very best goods, in fact, dollar for dollar and quality for quality.

Picturesque "Lord Mayor's Show" Attracted The Usual Masses of Sightseers

EXPENSIVE CIVIC PAGEANT

London, Nov. 9-With centuries old civic pomp and pageantry Alderman James Roll was today inaugurated Lord Mayor of London for the ensuing year. The picturesque "Lord Mayor's Show"—a two mile procession which annually dislocates traffic in the heart of the most congested districts of the City of London—attracted the usual masses of sightseers, although it is the customary thing for Londoners to shrug their shoulders and profess to regard it as a tiresome anachronism, "not worth going to see, my boy". However no Lord Mayor has yet been bold enough to cut out this expsensive pageant, and it is certain that all true Cockneys would protest loudly if the ancient ritual was dropped.

Lord Mayor Roll is an insurance company magnate, having been managing director of the Pearl Insur ance Company, with which concern he was connected for fifty years. The son of a Norfolk farmer, he came to London as a boy of fourteen, and-as he puts it himself-"By hard work and a little luck" he worked himself up from the humblest position. He is a typical Englishman of the Dickensian style, rather like the late King Edward in manners and appearance. He is passionately fond of horses and coaching, and despite his 72 years is still a famous whip.

The office of Lord Mayor is no sinceure. Nor is it a profitable one. for although there is a salary of ten thousand pounds for the year. the occupant of the Mansion House generally has to spend four or five limes that amount as official "Host" for the City of London.

Increased Efficiency Imperative

R. H. H. HILL, Chemical Engineer of the Bureau of Mines, in discussing the future of gasoline, says: "It is up to the refiners to extract more of petroleum's useful factors from the crude.

This he says can be effected through efficient management and by improved methods of cracking and blending.

Mr. Hill thus expresses the opinion which has a dominated the policy of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for many years and has enabled this Company to raise its efficiency peak year

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a leader in developing processes to increase the yield of gasoline from crude oil.

The best known and most successful of its improvements is the Burton process, originated in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Speaking of the Burton Process, Mr. Hill says that

"since it was first installed on a commercial scale it has produced approximately 40 million barrels of gasoline from heavy distillates, and has thus saved approximately 150 million barrels of crude that would have been necessary to produce an equivalent amounts of machine. equivalent amount of gasoline."

This vast saving has been accomplished without sacrificing

Red Crown, the motor gasoline, made and sold by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), is acknowledged by petro-leum chemists and other authorities to be the standard fuel for motor cars. It more than meets Government specifica-tions, which require an initial of not more than 140 degrees F; 20 percent off at 221 degrees; 50 percent off at 284 degrees; 90 percent off at 374 degrees; and a dry point (complete vaporization) at not more than 437 degrees F

During the semi-annual test conducted in July 1920, the average for Red Crown Gasoline showed an initial of 102 degrees F; 20 percent off at 210; 50 percent off at 221; 90 percent off at 387, and a dry point of 427 degrees F.

This shows an initial 38 degrees better than Government specifications, which means easy starting; 20 percent off at 11 degrees better than Government specifications; 50 percent off at 3 degrees better than Government specifications; and 90 per cent off 13 degrees higher than Government specifications, which is more than made up by the 10 degrees difference in dry point.

This proves that, notwithstanding the greatly increased quantity of gasoline which this Company is able to take from the crude, it has in no way sacrificed quality, and is another indication that the large scale operations of this Company have worked to the distinct advantage of every user of gasoline.

Pittsburg Press Institutes Airplane Delivery to Altoona, Pa.

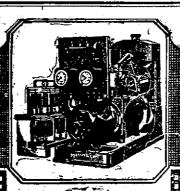

(By United Pryss) Altoona, Pa., Nov. 9.- The Pittsburgh Press recently introduced a method of delivering newspapers, new to the eastern section of the United States, when it instituted an airplane delivery between Pittsburgh and this city. The success of this like yearfure her led the Press to first venture has led the Press to consider adopting this mode of transportation to several other towns where it has a large number of subscribers.

The actual flying time for the initial trip was one hour and 14 minutes. The fastest mail train takes two hours and 55 minutes to come here from Pittsburgh.

The large difference in time was in part due to the rail distance of nearly 120 miles being shortened by the machine soaring in a straight line over the Allegheny mountains, while the railroad is forced to circle the steep grades. .

CONSPIRACY CHARGED AGAINST MAIL OWNER

New York Newspaper is Alleged to Have Been Sold to German Interests During the War

GOVERNMENT HAS THE CASE

New York, Nov. 9-Edward A Rumely, assured owner of the New York Mail, on his word of honor, said that the buyers reported were American citizens, Henry Stoddard told the jury here today.

Stoddard, the first witness in the case against Rumely, who is charged with conspiracy to serve German interests in the Maine while it was under his control.

Harper, a representative of the U. S. government, in outlining his case, declared he would show $750,-000 paid for the Mail, which came from Dr. Henrich Albert, German fiscal agent in the United States. He also said that $1,154,000 was paid between June 1, 1915 and April 1, 1916, and came from the German government.

Rumley, said Harper, will be shown as acting as agent for Bernhardt Demburg in a prospect designed to involve German-Americans, Irish Americans and Roman Catholies toward the German cause.

Wilson has been at work on his final message for some time and is understood to have discussed various parts of his speech with members of his cabinet, but he has not confided in them the exact contents of his message.

The president has not told anyone whether he will mention the treaty or the league covenant in the message, It is understood that he is devoting most of it to domestic matters and will contain in the message provisions for tax revision, legislation to reduce the cost of living and a number of other legislative matters. He devoted most of Monday to the preparation of the message. The president makes notes with his pencil, then later dictates it to his personal stenographer. There is no likelihood of the president delivering his speech in person. It is expected that it will be read in the senate and house by reading clerks on Tuesday December 7.
